

community who passed away on August 10th, 2021 at the age of 59. He is survived by his wife, Kimberly, his five children, Eli Jr., Kimelle, Joshua, Maurice, LaMiyah and Daviyon, and his grandchildren, Ariell Jr. and Eli Edward Ash III.

A man of large stature and spirit, Eli's presence was one that welcomed you and that could not be ignored. You could often find Eli behind his grill at community events preparing his famous barbecue or energizing the congregation at Mt. Zion AME Church by playing Gospel Jazz or R&B on his saxophone. He was an individual that enjoyed challenging the younger men in his life to keep up with him; especially when it came to football, swimming, and bike riding.

Anyone who knows Eli will speak to his passion for service and this is shown no clearer than in his commitment toward youth mentoring. From his days at the University of Houston, he was an active leader in the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity's "Guide Right" program, a hands-on curriculum that empowers youth in the Black community to harness their potential to address local issues. For 25 years, Eli served as a Senior Corrections Officer at the Garden State Youth Correctional Facility. Throughout any week, you could find Eli coaching football, baseball, and basketball teams throughout the Willingboro Public Schools system where he would always conclude each game and practice with a team huddle to laugh and reflect.

My heart goes out to Eli's entire family. For those that knew him, even in the briefest of life's moments, he will be missed.

RECOGNIZING REVEREND ROBERT DIMLICH'S 90TH BIRTHDAY AND HIS SERVICE TO OUR COMMUNITY

HON. SCOTT PERRY

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, August 31, 2021

Mr. PERRY. Madam Speaker, I am privileged to recognize Reverend Robert Dimlich upon the occasion of his 90th Birthday, and his ongoing ministries as a pastor, both at home and abroad.

After completing his studies at Washington Bible College in 1972, earning a Bachelor's Degree in Pastoral Theology, Rev. Dimlich pastored four churches from Shrewsbury, Massachusetts (1973 to 1976) to Charlestown, New Hampshire (1976 to 2002). He took his family to Stuttgart, Germany for six and a half years to pastor the Bible Church, at which he ministered to an English-speaking congregation of U.S. Service Members, government contractors, and families who were associated with the four U.S. military installations in the area.

Now residing in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Rev. Dimlich is the interim Pastor of the Bressler Bible Church, where he's served for nearly six years.

Rev. Dimlich also maintains a ministry of letter writing to reach individuals facing challenges, to include prison outreach. He aims to instill the Spirit of God to the incarcerated, while equipping them with the tools necessary to live a more productive and God-fearing way of life as they return to society.

Rev. Dimlich's ministry has been marked with a desire to meet the needs of others, with a heart of humility. He seeks to bring no fame, fortune, or honor to himself, but simply to reflect the mind of Christ by obeying His Heavenly Father's will.

I am honored to commend Reverend Robert Dimlich on his many successes in communities in and outside of our Nation, and his lifelong commitment to the Church. I wish him all of God's blessings as he celebrates his 90th Birthday, and wish him many more happy, healthy, and faithful adventures in days to come.

PRAISING PRESIDENT WILLIAM JEFFERSON CLINTON'S VISIONARY LEADERSHIP

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, August 31, 2021

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, last week I rose to highlight and discuss the major reasons why Americans are so appreciative that Bill Clinton served as the 42nd President of the United States, especially for his healing words and actions during the time of the tragic and horrific April 1995 Oklahoma City bombing at the Edmund R. Murrah Federal Building that killed 168 persons, including 19 children, and wounded more than 800 others.

I added that we Democrats thank President Clinton for all that, but for so much more, a subject I wish to elaborate on today.

Bill Clinton was the unparalleled visionary Democratic political leader of the latter half of the 20th Century.

In the presidential election preceding his, the Democratic candidate was beaten in the Electoral College 426–112, losing 40 states, and trailing in the popular vote by 7.8 percentage points and 7 million votes.

In the presidential election before that, 1984, the Democratic candidate lost 49 of 50 states, lost the Electoral College 525–13, and lost the popular vote by 18.2 percentage points and 16.8 million votes.

The 1992 electoral map and political outlook were bleak for the Governor of the 'small southern state of Arkansas' but he would not be deterred and would not be outworked and did not waver in his conviction that his progressive policies promising shared prosperity and his inclusive vision in which the United States "did not have a person to waste" would attract majority support.

The happy result of the 1992 presidential election is that the Democratic candidate, Bill Clinton, won the Electoral College 370–168, won 30 states, won every region of the country except the Deep South, won the popular vote by 5.6 percentage points 5.8 million votes, carrying several states that had not voted Democratic or voted Democratic only once since 1964, including California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Georgia, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

President Clinton repeated the feat in 1996, becoming the first Democratic President to win reelection since Franklin Roosevelt in 1944, carrying 31 states and the District of Columbia, prevailing in the Electoral College 379–

159, and winning the popular vote by 8.2 million votes and 8.51 percentage points, and became the first Democrat to carry the states of Florida and Arizona since 1976 and 1948, respectively.

And he carried the suburban vote, which for the first time in history comprised the largest percentage of the electorate, gave us a master class in how a candidate for national office should speak and appeal to moms and dads with financial anxieties, growing kids about whose educational and economic futures they are concerned, and worried for their safety of their communities and the health security of their aging parents.

A legendary political campaigner second to none ever, Bill Clinton shattered what used to be called the 'GOP Electoral Lock' and built the famed 'Blue Wall,' which every Democratic candidate since has relied upon for victory and that has made the Democratic candidate the popular vote winner in seven out of the last eight presidential elections.

Not only that, because of President Clinton's extraordinary success in managing the affairs of our nation, Republican charges now ring hollow when they shout that Democrats "are soft on crime," "unwilling to defend the country," "favor welfare recipients over hard working Americans," relegating them to invent new bogeymen like "Radical Islamic Terrorism" and "Caravans of Illegal Aliens" and "Chinese Communists" at our doorstep, invoke "family values," "guns, God, or gays," or some other culture war shibboleth, or to spout nonsensical conspiracy theories like the Big Lie that the 2020 presidential election was stolen and rife with fraud.

Truth be told, Madam Speaker, the real problem with our friends in the Republican Party is that they have never adapted to the Age of Clinton, in which politics and governance is about meeting people where they live and giving them the tools and opportunities they need to make the most of their own lives, and treating all persons fairly and with respect, and above all, not rationing justice.

This is why they have been unable to command majority or plurality support in all but one of the last eight national elections.

Madam Speaker, Alexis DeTocqueville came to visit America 190 years ago to study the maiden case of democracy in action and here is what he wrote about political parties; it remains surprisingly relevant and prescient:

"[S]mall parties are generally without political faith. As they are not elevated and sustained by lofty purposes, the selfishness of their character is openly displayed in all their actions. They glow with a factious zeal; their language is violent, but their progress is timid and uncertain. The means they employ are as disreputable as the aim sought."

What distinguishes the Democratic Party from the Republican Party is the former's abiding faith in the capacity of human beings to improve their social, economic, and political conditions.

On the other hand, at the core of the Republican philosophy lies a darker, more pessimistic view of this "scope of human perfectibility"; instead of looking to the future with courage and optimism, the conservative spirit looks to a nostalgic past with a pessimistic attitude toward a dreaded future.

Madam Speaker, because of the remarkable leadership and success role-modeled by the President William Jefferson Clinton, Democrats in Congress and across the nation know who they are, what they believe, and what is important to fight to achieve or preserve; maybe one day our friends across the aisle will be so lucky.

I thank President Clinton for all he did as the Nation's 42nd President and captain of the ship of state to make our Nation the most prosperous on earth and at peace in the world.

HONORING THE LIFE AND EXEMPLARY LEGACY OF STATE REPRESENTATIVE THAD C. MCCLAMMY, JR.

HON. TERRI A. SEWELL

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, August 31, 2021

Ms. SEWELL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the life and legacy of Alabama State Representative, Thad McClammy, an exemplary community advocate, public servant, and former president of Trenholm State Community College who passed away at age 78 on August 21, 2021, of natural causes surrounded by family.

Representative McClammy, one of three siblings, was born in Beatrice, Alabama, to Ukla and Thad C. McClammy, Sr. A graduate of Alabama State University, Rep. McClammy earned his Master of Science in Vocational and Adult Education from Auburn University at Montgomery. He also received an Honorary Doctorate of Law degree from Selma University.

In 1981, prior to his career as an elected official, Rep. McClammy served as President of Trenholm State Technical College, now Trenholm Community College, for fourteen years. During his tenure, he conceptualized and successfully spearheaded a concerted effort by five two-year colleges in Alabama, including Trenholm, to receive Congressional designation as Historically Black Colleges and Universities. By working to secure this designation, he made way for millions of dollars in federal funds year after year to Alabama. Under his leadership, Trenholm State became a catalyst for community revitalization, piloting a new Certification of Participation program to fund the construction of the college's library. After seeing its success, many other Alabama two-year colleges used this approach to finance new construction.

Rep. McClammy served in the Alabama House of Representatives for nearly twenty-seven years, beginning his career as an elected official in 1994. Representing Alabama's 76th District, Rep. McClammy dutifully served his community using his position to further the economic development of both his district and the greater Montgomery area. Capitalizing on his position as a community leader, he was responsible for identifying the site and working with the landowners to get them to band together to make way for the construction of Hyundai's one-billion-dollar plant in Montgomery despite other sites being further along in consideration. He conceptualized the Gateway Recreational Park site on I-65 in Montgomery, the initial Montgomery Enterprise Zone, and the I-65/Regional Airport Business Park in Montgomery. Continuously pushing for the expansion of U.S. 80 and 82, Rep. McClammy left his mark by working hand in hand with the local delegation and the community to secure the economic vitality of Alabama's 76th District.

Continuing to address the needs of the community, Rep. McClammy helped recruit the Baptist Outreach Health Center, the University of Alabama at Birmingham Medical School branch campus site at Baptist South, advocated the correction of Cloverdale Ditch flood insurance problem, and successfully challenged the lack of minority representation in Montgomery. Forging symbiotic relationships among the business community, Rep. McClammy helped bolster economic development in Montgomery that led to over $70 million worth of construction projects in West Montgomery.

Understanding the importance of historical preservation throughout his district, Rep. McClammy was a fierce supporter and advocate of Civil Rights preservation projects promoting the establishment of the Interpretive Center on the campus of Alabama State University to be managed by National Park Service, the planning and development of the Selma to Montgomery Voting Rights Trail and obtaining funding for the preservation of Mrs. Rosa Parks' childhood school to name a few. He also sponsored the bill leading to the passage of the Rosa Parks' Act that pardoned Mrs. Parks and hundreds of other convicted of violating laws aimed at keeping the races separate.

As a dynamic community leader, Rep. McClammy also worked as a real estate broker and developer. His civil engagements include Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., the Cosmopolitan Civic Club, as a founder of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce, and former deacon of The Historic Day Street Missionary Baptist Church.

Rep. McClammy was preceded in death by his wife, Patricia A. McClammy, whom he married in 1966. Together they had two children, Thad Christopher McClammy III and Patrice McClammy. He is survived by his children and a host of other family members.

On behalf of Alabama's 7th Congressional District, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the extraordinary life and legacy of Representative Thad McClammy and his contributions to Alabama's 76th District and the Montgomery community.

REMEMBERING WILLIAM J. "BILL" BOARMAN, 26TH PUBLIC PRINTER OF THE UNITED STATES

HON. ZOE LOFGREN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, August 31, 2021

Ms. LOFGREN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a great friend of the U.S. Government Publishing Office and of the U.S. Congress itself, former Public Printer William J. "Bill" Boorman, who passed away on August 22, 2021.

Appointed by President Barack Obama, Bill served as the 26th Public Printer of the United States, the former title for the head of the U.S. Government Printing Office, as it was then known. As Rep. STENY HOYER has said, Bill's service set a new standard of achievement for his successors to emulate.

Bill's arrival at GPO found the agency confronting worrisome fiscal and technology challenges. He moved quickly to cut agency spending and aggressively collected funds owed to GPO throughout the government. In committee hearings and visits with Members of Congress, Bill provided persuasive testimony on the value of the services that GPO performs while at the same time ordering the first-ever survey of Congress's printing requirements, resulting in the largest single-year reduction in the number of printed CONGRESSIONAL RECORD copies delivered to Congress since GPO began an online version in 1994.

Bill made customer service GPO's primary strategic goal, a direction that earned the agency applause throughout the government. He ordered the development and release of GPO's first mobile web application. He devised and won congressional approval for a new investment and spending plan that put GPO on the path it is continuing to follow today. As a former GPO compositor, his return to the agency restored confidence and bolstered employee morale. While heralding technology change at GPO he appeared in "Linotype: The Film," an independent production extolling the virtues of that long gone machine. Under his watch GPO observed its 150th anniversary, opening an exhibit of its history to the public and issuing an official history with a foreword by Bill. In addition to leaving the agency better than he found it, Bill made GPO history by appointing Ms. Davita Vance-Cooks as deputy public printer, the first woman ever to hold that post, and in 2013 the Senate confirmed her appointment to become the first woman and the first African American ever to head the agency.

The road to Bill's success at the GPO was paved from the beginning of his career. Bill spent his life in printing, frequently claiming that he had "ink in my veins," and in his work supporting the rights and welfare of printers nationwide. Following high school in Hyattsville, MD, he took a four-year apprenticeship with the International Typographical Union (ITU) and became a journeyman printer at McArdle Printing in Washington, D.C. In 1974, Bill began his career as a proofreader at the GPO and eventually moved up to linotype operator. He quickly became a shop steward and at age 30 was elected president of the Columbia Typographical Union, Local 101, his home local and a craft union that traces its beginning to before the Civil War.

Bill served on the ITU executive board in 1987 where he was a key player in that organization's merger with the Communication Workers of America. He was elected to head the ITU as it moved to merger, and he subsequently became head of the CWA's Printing Sector.

As the chief executive of the newly-merged organization, Bill oversaw bargaining and organizing in the printing industry. He also served as chair of the $1 billion CWA/ITU Negotiated Pension Plan and the $125 million counterpart serving Canadian printers. His experience with pension investing, funding, and administration led to his appointment to a number of high-level pension policy councils.

Over the span of his career, Bill was a fierce advocate for workers' rights. He was frequently in attendance at labor rallies across the country, marching with Cesar Chavez in San Diego in 1990 and supporting Richard Trumka at the Detroit News Building during its
